5 Any assessments of the capability of a voluntary patient to consent to treatment or the appointment of a substitute decision-maker shall be carried out pursuant to the relevant provisions of the Hospitals Act.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION AND INVOLUNTARY PSYCHIATRIC ASSESSMENT

8 Where a physician has completed a medical examination of a person and is of the opinion that the person apparently has a mental disorder and that

(a) the person, as a result of the mental disorder,

(i) is threatening or attempting to cause serious harm to himself or herself or has recently done so, has recently caused serious harm to himself or herself, is seriously harming or is threatening serious harm towards another person or has recently done so, or

(b) the person would benefit from psychiatric inpatient treatment in a psychiatric facility and is not suitable for inpatient admission as a voluntary patient, the physician may complete a certificate for involuntary psychiatric assessment for the person.

9 (1) A certificate for involuntary psychiatric assessment must be in the form prescribed by the regulations and a physician who signs a certificate shall

(a) set out in the certificate

(i) that the physician has conducted a medical examination of the person who is the subject of the certificate within the previous seventy-two hours,

(ii) the date on which the physician examined the person, and

(b) distinguish in the certificate between facts observed by the physician and facts communicated to the physician by any other person.

(2) The certificate for involuntary psychiatric assessment must be signed by the physician who examined the person.

(3) A certificate for involuntary psychiatric assessment is not effective unless the physician signs it within seventy-two hours after the medical examination.

10 (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, two certificates for involuntary psychiatric assessment are sufficient authority for

(a) any peace officer to take the person into custody as soon as possible and to a suitable place for an involuntary psychiatric assessment as soon as possible;

(b) the person to be detained, restrained and observed in a psychiatric facility for not more than seventy-two hours; and

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), one medical certificate signed by a physician is sufficient authority for the purpose of clauses (1)(a), (b) and (c) where compelling circumstances exist and where a second physician is not readily available to examine the person and execute a second certificate.

11 Every medical certificate made and given under this Act is prima facie evidence of the facts therein appearing and that the judgment therein set out has been formed by the physician on such facts as if the matters therein appearing have been verified on oath.

12 Where, within seventy-two hours of detention pursuant to Section 10, the person has not been admitted to the psychiatric facility as an involuntary patient under Section 17 or as a voluntary patient under Section 4, the chief executive officer shall ensure that the person is promptly informed that the person has the right to leave the psychiatric facility, subject to any detention that is lawfully authorized otherwise than under this Act.

13 (1) Any person may make a written statement under oath or affirmation before a judge requesting an order for the medical examination of another person by a physician and setting out the reasons for the request, and the judge shall receive the statement.

(2) A judge who receives a statement under subsection (1) shall consider the statement and, where the judge considers it not to be frivolous, vexatious or malicious, hear and consider, after appropriate notice has been given to both parties, the allegations of the person who made the statement and the evidence of any witnesses.

(3) A judge under subsection (2) may, where the judge considers it necessary under the circumstances, proceed with the hearing ex parte.

(4) The judge may issue an order for the medical examination of the other person if the judge has reasonable and probable grounds to believe that the other person

- (a) has a mental disorder;
- (b) will not consent to undergo a medical examination by a physician; and
- (c) as a result of the mental disorder,
 - (i) is threatening or attempting to cause serious harm to self or has recently done so, or has recently caused serious harm to self,

14 A peace officer may take a person into custody and take the person forthwith to a place for a medical examination by a physician if the peace officer has reasonable and probable grounds to believe that

- (a) the person apparently has a mental disorder;

(c) it is not feasible in the circumstances to make application to a judge for an order for a medical examination pursuant to Section 13; and

16 (1) A peace officer or other authorized individual who takes a person into custody for a medical examination shall convey the person by the least intrusive means possible without compromising the safety of the person.

(2) The peace officer or other authorized individual shall remain at the place of the medical examination and shall retain custody of the person until the medical examination is completed.

(3) Where a person is taken for a medical examination and it is decided not to recommend involuntary psychiatric assessment of the person, the peace officer or other authorized individual shall arrange and pay for the return of the person to the place where the person was taken into custody or, at the person's request, to some other appropriate place.

(d) the person requires psychiatric treatment in a psychiatric facility and is not suitable for inpatient admission as a voluntary patient; and

(e) as a result of the mental disorder, the person does not have the capacity to make admission and treatment decisions, the psychiatrist may admit the person as an involuntary patient by completing and filing with the chief executive officer a declaration of involuntary admission in the form prescribed by the regulations.

18 (1) In determining a patient's capacity to make a treatment decision pursuant to clause 17(e), the psychiatrist shall consider whether the patient fully understands and appreciates

(a) the nature of the condition for which the specific treatment is proposed;

(b) the nature and purpose of the specific treatment;

(c) the risks and benefits involved in undergoing the specific treatment; and

(d) the risks and benefits involved in not undergoing the specific treatment;

(2) In determining a patient's capacity to make a treatment decision, the psychiatrist shall also consider whether the patient's mental disorder affects the patient's ability to fully appreciate the consequences of making the treatment decision.

19 A psychiatrist who signs the declaration of involuntary admission shall

(a) set out in the declaration

(i) that the psychiatrist personally examined the person who is the subject of the declaration,

(ii) the date or dates on which the psychiatrist examined the person, and

(iii) the reasons to support the psychiatrist's opinion that

(A) the person has a mental disorder, and

(B) the criteria in clauses 17(a) to (e) are fulfilled,

(b) distinguish in the declaration between facts observed by the psychiatrist and facts communicated to the psychiatrist by any other person; and

20 Notwithstanding Section 19, a person in respect of whom a declaration of involuntary admission has been executed shall be admitted to the psychiatric facility to which the person is taken.

21 (1) Before the expiry of a declaration of involuntary admission, the attending psychiatrist shall examine the patient and assess the patient's mental condition and may renew the patient's status as an involuntary patient by completing and filing with the chief executive officer a declaration of renewal in the form prescribed by the regulations, if the prerequisites for admission as an involuntary patient as set out in Section 17 are met.

(2) Where the attending psychiatrist does not renew the patient's status as an involuntary patient, the psychiatrist shall promptly inform the patient that the patient has the right to leave the psychiatric facility, subject to any detention that is lawfully authorized otherwise than under this Act.

(3) Section 19 applies mutatis mutandis in respect of a declaration of renewal.

(4) Subsection (1) applies mutatis mutandis with respect to the expiry of a declaration of renewal.

22 An involuntary patient may be detained, observed and examined in a psychiatric facility

- (a) for not more than one month under a declaration of involuntary admission; and
- (b) for not more than
 - (i) one additional month under a declaration of renewal,
 - (ii) two additional months under a second declaration of renewal,
 - (iii) three additional months under a third declaration of renewal, and
 - (iv) three additional months for any subsequent declarations of renewal.

23 (1) Immediately after the filing of a declaration of involuntary admission or a declaration of renewal, the chief executive officer shall examine the declaration to ascertain whether or not the declaration has been completed in accordance with this Act.

(2) Where, in the opinion of the chief executive officer, the declaration has not been completed in accordance with this Act before the expiry of the period of detention authorized by this Act, the chief executive officer shall ensure that the attending psychiatrist is so informed.

24 (1) An involuntary patient

- (a) who does not continue to meet the requirements of clauses 17(a) to (e); or
- (b) whose authorized period of detention has expired, shall be changed to the status of a voluntary patient, subject to any detention that is lawfully authorized otherwise than under this Act.

(2) An attending psychiatrist may change the status of an involuntary patient to that of a voluntary patient by completing and filing with the chief executive officer a declaration of change of status.

(3) Where a patient's status is changed to that of a voluntary patient, the chief executive officer shall ensure that the patient is promptly informed that the patient is a voluntary patient and has the right to leave the psychiatric facility, subject to any detention that is lawfully authorized otherwise than under this Act.

25 After examining a voluntary patient and assessing the patient's mental condition, the attending psychiatrist may change the status of the patient to that of an involuntary patient by completing and filing with the chief executive officer a declaration of involuntary admission if the prerequisites for admission as an involuntary patient set out in Section 17 are met.

26 Where a declaration of involuntary admission or a declaration of renewal is filed, the chief executive officer shall promptly inform the patient and the substitute decision-maker in writing that the patient

- (a) has been admitted or continued as an involuntary patient or had his or her status changed to that of an involuntary patient, as the case may be, of the psychiatric facility and the reasons for the change;
- (b) has the right to apply to the Review Board for a review of the patient's status; and
- (c) has the right to retain and instruct counsel without delay.

27 (1) A psychiatric facility shall admit as a patient any person named in a warrant or order purporting to be made under an Act of the Parliament of Canada or of the Province.

(2) The psychiatric facility shall

- (a) notify the Attorney General forthwith upon the admission of a person pursuant to this Section;
- (b) report to the Attorney General immediately upon the recovery of such person and, in any event, at intervals of not more than twelve months on the condition and progress of all persons detained in the psychiatric facility, including progress of all persons detained in the psychiatric facility pursuant to this Section; and
- (c) make any report required by the terms of the committing order or warrant.

(3) The provisions of this Act respecting discharge or transfer of patients do not apply to patients admitted pursuant to this Section if the terms of the committing order or warrant conflict with those provisions.

28 (1) In addition to the circumstances outlined in Section 27, a person may be admitted to a psychiatric facility pursuant to an Act of the Parliament of Canada or of the Province.

(2) A person admitted to a psychiatric facility pursuant to subsection (1) shall be admitted to the psychiatric facility, detained there and discharged from there in accordance with the appropriate legislation governing that person or any regulations, orders in council, orders of a court or warrants made pursuant to such legislation.

29 Where the chief executive officer believes that it is in the best interests of an involuntary patient to be treated in a psychiatric facility other than the psychiatric facility the patient is currently in, the chief executive officer may transfer the involuntary patient upon the agreement of the chief executive officer of that psychiatric facility.

30 When an involuntary patient requires hospital treatment that cannot be provided in a psychiatric facility, the chief executive officer may transfer the patient to a hospital for treatment and return the patient to the psychiatric facility on the conclusion of the treatment.

31 A psychiatric facility may admit or transfer a patient who is in a psychiatric facility in another jurisdiction or in a hospital under the jurisdiction of the Government of Canada and may detain such person for the purpose of an involuntary psychiatric assessment.

32 When it appears to the Minister that

(a) an involuntary patient has come or been brought into the Province and the patient's care and treatment is the responsibility of another jurisdiction; or

(b) it would be in the best interests of an involuntary patient to be cared for in another jurisdiction, the Minister may, having complied with the laws of the other jurisdiction, transfer the involuntary patient to the other jurisdiction.

33 When an involuntary patient is transferred pursuant to Section 29 or 30, the authority conferred by any certificates relating to the patient continues in force in the psychiatric facility or hospital to which the patient is transferred.

34 Where a patient in a psychiatric facility is transferred to another psychiatric facility or hospital, the psychiatric facility or hospital receiving the patient has the same authority to detain or treat the patient as the psychiatric facility from which the patient was transferred had.

35 (1) When a psychiatric facility transfers a patient pursuant to Section 29, 30 or 32, the psychiatric facility shall immediately notify the patient's substitute decision-maker.

(2) On the transfer of the patient referred to in subsection (1), the psychiatric facility transferring the patient shall forward to the new psychiatric facility or hospital to which the patient is transferred a copy of all relevant documents and information pertaining to the patient.

36 (1) Upon receiving a request for review pursuant to clause 26(b), the Review Board shall, as soon as possible, but no later than twenty-one days after the request, review a patient's status to determine whether the prerequisites for admission as an involuntary patient as set out in Section 17

(a) were met when the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal, as the case may be, was filed in respect of the patient; and

(b) continue to be met at the time of the hearing of the application.

(2) The Review Board may, by order, confirm the patient's status as an involuntary patient if the Review Board determines that the prerequisites for admission as an involuntary patient set out in Section 17

(a) were met when the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal was filed and continued to be met at the time of the hearing of the application; or

(b) were not met when the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal was filed but were met at the time of the hearing of the application.

(3) The Review Board shall, by order, rescind the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal if the Review Board determines that the prerequisites for admission as an involuntary patient set out in Section 17

(a) were not met when the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal was filed and were not met at the time of the hearing of the application; or

(b) were met when the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal was filed but did not continue to be met at the time of the hearing of the application.

(4) An order of the Review Board confirming or rescinding a declaration of involuntary admission or a declaration of renewal applies to the declaration of involuntary admission or the declaration of renewal in force immediately before the making of the order.

37 The Review Board shall review the file of each person detained under a declaration of involuntary admission and the patient is deemed to have made an application to the Review Board

(a) sixty days from the date of the initial declaration of involuntary admission;

(b) at the end of the sixth, twelfth, eighteenth and twenty-four month stage from the date of the initial declaration of involuntary admission; and

(c) where a declaration of involuntary admission is still necessary after twenty-four months, every twelve months thereafter.

SUBSTITUTE DECISION-MAKERS

38 (1) For the purpose of this Act, consent may be given or refused on behalf of an involuntary patient or a patient on a community treatment order by a substitute decision-maker who has capacity and is willing to make the decision to give or refuse the consent from the following in descending order:

(a) a person who has been authorized to give consent under the Medical Consent Act;

(b) the involuntary patient's guardian appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction;

(c) the spouse or common-law partner, if the spouse or common-law partner is cohabiting with the patient in a conjugal relationship;

(d) an adult child of the patient;

(e) a parent of the patient or a person who stands in loco parentis;

(f) an adult brother or sister of the patient;

(g) any other adult next of kin of the patient; or

(h) the Public Trustee.

(2) Where a person in a category in subsection (1) fulfils the criteria for a substitute decision-maker as set out in subsection (4) but refuses consent on the patient's behalf, the consent of a person in a subsequent category is not valid.

(3) Where two or more persons who are not described in the same clause of subsection (1) claim the authority to give or refuse consent under that subsection, the one under the clause occurring first in that subsection prevails.

(4) A person referred to in clauses 1(c) to (g) shall not exercise the authority given by that subsection unless the person

(a) has been in personal contact with the patient over the preceding twelve-month period;

(b) is willing to assume the responsibility for consenting or refusing consent;

(c) knows of no person of a higher category who is able and willing to make the decision; and

(d) makes a statement in writing certifying the person's relationship to the patient and the facts and beliefs set out in clauses (a) to (c).

(5) The psychiatrist is responsible for obtaining consent from the appropriate person referred to in subsection (1).

39 The substitute decision-maker shall make the decision in relation to specified psychiatric treatment and other related medical treatment

(a) in accordance with the patient's prior capable informed expressed wishes; or

(b) in the absence of awareness of a prior capable informed expressed wish or if following the patient's prior capable informed expressed wish would endanger the physical or mental health or safety of the patient or another person, in accordance with what the substitute decision-maker believes to be in the patient's best interests.

40 In order to determine the best interest of the patient for the purpose of clause 39(b), regard shall be had to whether

(a) the mental condition of the patient will be or is likely to be improved by the specified psychiatric treatment;

(b) the mental condition of the patient will improve or is likely to improve without the specified psychiatric treatment;

(c) the anticipated benefit to the patient from the specified psychiatric treatment and other related medical treatment outweighs the risk of harm to the patient; and

(d) the specified psychiatric treatment is the least restrictive and least intrusive treatment that meets the requirements of clauses (a), (b) and (c).

41 Whoever seeks a person's consent on a patient's behalf is entitled to rely on that person's statement in writing as to the person's relationship with the patient and as to the facts and beliefs mentioned in clauses 38(4)(a) to (c), unless it is not reasonable to believe the statement.

42 (1) Where a substitute decision-maker approves or refuses treatment on behalf of a person pursuant to subsection 38(1), the Review Board may review the provision or refusal of consent when requested to do so by the attending psychiatrist or the patient to determine whether the substitute decision-maker has rendered a capable informed consent.

(2) Where the Review Board finds that a substitute decision-maker has not rendered a capable informed consent, the next suitable decision-maker in the hierarchy in subsection 38(1) becomes the substitute decision-maker.

CERTIFICATE OF LEAVE

43 (1) Notwithstanding any declaration of involuntary admission or declaration of renewal with respect to an involuntary patient, the psychiatrist of an involuntary patient may issue a certificate of leave for up to six months, in such form as prescribed by the regulations, allowing the patient to live outside the psychiatric facility subject to specific written conditions as may be specified in the certificate.

(2) A certificate of leave is not effective without the consent of the involuntary patient's substitute decision-maker.

(3) A patient for whom a certificate of leave is issued shall

(a) attend appointments with the psychiatrist or with any other health professional referred to in the certificate at the times and places scheduled from time to time; and

(b) comply with the psychiatric treatment described in the certificate.

(4) A psychiatrist who issues a certificate of leave shall give a copy of it to

(a) the patient;

(b) a substitute decision-maker who consented to the issuance of the certificate under subsection (1);

(c) the chief executive officer; and

(d) any other health professional involved in the treatment plan.

(5) The provisions of this Act respecting an involuntary patient continue to apply in respect of a patient who is subject to a certificate of leave.

(6) This Section does not authorize placing a patient on leave where the patient is subject to detention otherwise than under this Act.

44 (1) The psychiatrist, by a certificate of cancellation of leave, may, without notice, cancel the certificate of leave for breach of a condition or if the psychiatrist is of the opinion that

(a) the patient's condition may present a danger to the patient or others; or

(b) the patient has failed to report as required by the certificate of leave.

(2) A certificate of cancellation of leave is sufficient authority for one month after it is signed for a peace officer to take the patient named in it into custody and to a psychiatric facility for an involuntary psychiatric assessment.

45 (1) On application, the Review Board shall review the status of the patient to determine whether or not there has been a breach of a specific written condition of the certificate of leave.

(2) The Review Board, by order, may confirm or rescind the certificate of cancellation of leave.

46 (1) Where an involuntary patient leaves a psychiatric facility when a certificate of leave has not been granted, a peace officer, or other person appointed by the chief executive officer, may apprehend, without warrant, the person named in the order and return that person to the facility.

(2) An involuntary patient who has not been returned within one month after the patient's absence has become known shall, unless subject to detention otherwise than under this Act, be deemed to have been discharged from the psychiatric facility.

(3) A person who is returned to a facility under this Section may be detained for the remainder of the declaration of involuntary admission to which the person was subject when the person's absence was discovered.
